There are just four requirements to become certified:

1
You must attend this Mobius Institute course, or any other recognized training course that covers the same topics.

2
You must achieve a 70% score, or better, on the three-hour, 100-question, multiple-choice exam.

3
You must have a minimum of 48 months of experience in the industry involved in some way with reliability improvement.

4
Your experience must be verified by an independent person.

If you do not meet all of the requirements (for example, you do not have enough experience), then you can take the course, take the exam, and when you do have the required months of experience, you will be officially certified.

What will I be capable of once I complete the course?

In short, you will be capable of successfully leading a reliability improvement program.

You will understand:

- How to develop the economic justification,
- How to develop and implement a strategy,
- How to build a culture of reliability and performance improvement,
- How to ensure that everyone is trained, motivated, and qualified to play their role,
- How to break out of reactive maintenance, and

- How to lead a team that will establish discipline in everything it does, which includes:
  – Caring for the equipment so their life is maximized,
  – Learning from a range of data so the best decisions can be made, and – Continuously improving everything that is done.
